

Benefits of Distance Education

Allows for greater flexibility in scheduling

Reach greater numbers of people

Faster response to request for trainings

Can provide recommendations and feedback sessions related to classroom and behavioral issues.

Lower cost related to travel

More efficient

For more information about services we provide contact:

Angelia Reed,
Administrative Assist. CEP
areed@glenwood.org
205-795-3203

Glenwood Mental Health Services Inc.
150 Glenwood Lane
Birmingham, AL 35242
www.glenwood.org

DISTANCE EDUCATION OPTIONS

Investing in what works

Glenwood
Autism & Behavioral
Health Center

Target Audiences

Teacher Trainings
Paraprofessional Trainings
Administrative Trainings
First Responders Trainings
Community Trainings

DISTANCE EDUCATION OPTIONS

Training Topics

Autism 101
Visual Strategies
Social Skills
Social Stories
Independent Work
ABA
Sensory Issues
Transition
Prompting
Working with Families
Behavior Management
FBA and BIP

Organization and Planning

We can assess your educational and training needs to create a training that is specific to those needs.

Teaching/ Learning

By creating training specific to a school system's needs, teachers will be more effective in the classroom.

Delivery Methods

We can provide Distance Education in a variety of ways to fit your individual needs.

Educational Support

Provide supplementary materials and resources to enhance trainings.

Support Services

Assist with setting up and planning your training needs to ensure that the nature of the training and the delivery style are efficient.

Evaluation and Assessment

Ensure that the training meets the needs of the participants and provides information for potential future trainings and/or follow-up trainings.

Delivery Options

Pre-recorded

Day
1/2 Day
Hourly

Interactive

Hour
iPod cast
(5 minute)